Vision and Misson

Vision

Empowering young people to flourish through holistic education within a grounded, innovative and relationship-based learning community.

Mission

We offer life changing education and wellbeing support for young people who have made a choice to engage in an inclusive, diverse and safe learning environment.

College Overview

St Joseph's is a co-educational Catholic Specialist Secondary School within the Diocese of Melbourne. St Joseph's operates within the policy and compliance framework of the Victorian Catholic Education Authority (VCEA), the Department of Education and Training (DET), and Edmund Rice Education Australia Victorian Schools Limited (EREA VSL).

St Joseph's Flexible Learning Centre (FLC) commenced operation as a registered school in 2012 and has grown to meet the needs of young people from around Melbourne aged 12–25 years through its campuses in North Melbourne, Geelong (2016), Colac (2023), and BlendED (2023). BlendED is a dual engagement program offering a virtual curriculum and intensive in-person wellbeing support.

The philosophy of St Joseph's is shaped by our adherence to our Faith Tradition, embracing our Catholic identity as part of Edmund Rice Education Australia Victorian Schools Limited (EREA VSL). Drawing inspiration from Jesus, Blessed Edmund Rice, Paulo Freire, and Dr. Miriam Rose Ungumerr Baumann, we strive to embody the core values of love, truth, justice, and compassion in our endeavours. Our firm dedication to social justice extends to standing in solidarity with marginalised youth from diverse social, cultural, and religious backgrounds.

This philosophy also has a practical focus, based in the application of four core principles among all community members. These principles are Respect, Safe and Legal, Participation and Honesty. The principles establish common ground among staff members, young people, parents, guardians and carers. These shared principles provide a means to resolve conflict, negotiate learning, recognize rights, and model and explore responsibilities and consequences.

St Joseph's offers an inclusive and non-discriminating learning community to young people, who for a variety of reasons, have become disengaged from mainstream education. Young people who enrol at the St Joseph's come from a variety of language, cultural and religious backgrounds, particularly prioritising young people from backgrounds of socio-economic disadvantage. Actively engaging with diverse communities, we celebrate cultural richness, ensure cultural safety and promote understanding, dialogue and unity.

Teaching and learning are characterised by small class sizes, a flexible curriculum that draws on individual interest and needs, and an approach that encourages learner empowerment and autonomy. Learning experiences are holistic and address the social and emotional needs of young people, promote wellbeing and develop cognitive and academic skills. Learning experiences are linked to educational outcomes and delivered through the Victorian and national curriculum frameworks, in addition to accredited vocational education and training courses. Aligned with our social justice mission, we encourage students and staff to extend their reach beyond themselves, advocating for equity, respect and compassion for all.

St Joseph's empowers young people to take personal responsibility for their actions and learning, feel enhanced wellbeing and achieve greater autonomy and self-reliance, to engage in the transition to further education training, and/or employment and to negotiate positive steps to young adulthood.

Principal's Report

I have had the privilege of having worked with St Joseph's for 12 years and each year our wonderful young people and their families guide our priorities and areas of focus. In 2023, because of strong community advocacy, we opened the third Campus of St Joseph's in Colac. Many young people and families from this area had already been engaged in our school through the Geelong Campus, and we were delighted to open this Campus to ensure that the young people from this community had a home for their learning, in their local area.

St Joseph's also opened our dual engagement program, BlendED, which is a virtual curriculum program that also offers intensive wellbeing support that aims to support young people and families to remove or reduce the barriers that young people may be facing. This program was developed because of the positive outcomes for some young people during the Covid lockdown period. For many, that time created a safe and secure place for learning and the challenges of leaving the home, catching public transport, and making social connections did not exist during this time. Through BlendED we want to ensure that all young people have access to education, which it is their right to do so, and that we are all working together on supporting young people to build the capacity and the tools to engage more broadly in the community.

The registration of our Ballarat Campus has been completed and we have purchased, and are completing a capital project on a beautiful building, that will provide education to more than 120 young people when it opens its doors in 2024. We have had strong community support from local high schools, youth service agencies, the Diocese of Ballarat Catholic Education Limited (DOB-CEL), Melbourne Archdiocese of Catholic Schools (MACS), and our governing authority, Edmund Rice Education Australia (EREA).

It is very exciting that St Joseph's has grown to support and provide education opportunities to more young people, and we look forward to continuing to work in areas that seek out and need a school such as ours.

There are too many achievements and celebrations from each of our campuses and our young people to mention individually. It is important that we all celebrate the formal achievements of each young person as they complete their senior curriculum, VET certificates and other micro-credentials. There are also many young people who may not choose or not be interested or ready to participate in formal certificates, and it is essential that we continue to celebrate and encourage the dreams of those who are budding entrepreneurs, musicians, artists, community leaders, and those who are focusing on improving their health. All the aspirations of our young people are valid, important, and cherished, and we are lucky to be in a changing time in education, that better understands the diversity of young people.

I offer my gratitude to all who trust our schools to educate, support and keep safe our young people. We take this responsibility and privilege very seriously.
